70 Red Buckets of Surprises!

“ Michael Woodward, is the BEST sales rep if not one the best sales rep that Carboline has. I have asked Michael on many occasions to call on a client of ours to explain and or help with technical answers for a Carboline product and he is always willing to help. My clients always get back to me in a very positive manner about the information they received from him. His actions also demonstrates that he is an honest sales person and those are hard to come by today.

Although I have worked for Somay for many years I was never involved in the sales end, but now I am a bit involved, I asked Michael to come over to our company to brief me a little about the Carboline products, and again Michael, help me by giving me some insights of the Carboline product line. With him is not just about selling, when I have received paint from a bad batch, when shipments have been damaged I have reached out to him via e-mail or phone and I can always count on the fact that he will take care of the matter promptly.

And last but not least CARBOLINE PRODUCTS are not good products, they are EXCELLENT PRODUCTS. ”
